

OUR APPROACH TO ONLINE TRAINING

Polykala specialises in thoughtful approaches to complex challenges. We are excited to offer a suite of sessions that are purpose-built for the digital space. We believe online training can be inclusive of diverse personalities, work/life needs and learning styles. The best online training is: purposeful, succinct, accessible and engaging.

We are committed to supporting organisations and communities to survive, recover and even innovate in these tough times.

We use a variety of web-based apps to support our online programs:

- Video conferencing (with breakout room facilities)
- Short & simple visuals
- Digital brainstorming boards and polling
- Collaborative online whiteboards

Our modular sessions are:

- 2-3 hours long (per module)
- Delivered by two Harvard-trained facilitators
- Tailored for groups of up to 25 people

"I gained a great awareness and believe it has made me a better person in my life as well as a Manager. It provided real life stories, challenging scenarios and opportunities to raise questions to people who live and breathe these situations.."
